A State should use its rights to make its Laws & Policies, implement & Enforce such Laws & Policies, over its Land & Oceanic boundaries. For the Sake of legality its boundaries in Ocean should be considered as part of Land. State should use right to inspect, frisk, allow or disallow entry of a Person or Group of Persons or Ship/s or other means of Transport, entering in its Land or Oceanic boundaries. State should use its right to allow or disallow any kind of activities or businesses within its boundaries. No ‘other State’ or ‘Citizens of other State’ should be allowed to own part of land or Ocean within boundaries of a State, directly or indirectly.

State should use its rights to consider merged Land/s, property/s or wealth/s belonging to Person/s or Group/s of Persons, if such Land etc. are controlled directly or indirectly by Same Person/s or Group/s of Person/s through shell organisations or Agents. In case such Lands etc. are found to be more than 04 kilometres, State should use its right to take permanent control of such Land etc., without paying any considerations. Same logic should be applied on such Wealth or property/s, if they are found to be beyond pre-disclosed means of Income. Any privet ownership over Waters/ part of Oceans should not be allowed.

State should use its right to manage its human populations, for keeping them to such levels as sustainable trough State’s resources. State should use its right to control growth of its human population, through enforcement of use of pre-fertilization contraceptives, beyond such numbers of babies per couple as thought to be fit for existing condition.

State should use its right to curb Polygamy & Polyandry or such other multiple marital relations in civil society, which disturb the ‘right to marital life’ of other populations.

State should use its right to channelise Food cycle. State should enforce policy of channelising Human waste in biological food cycles for use of Plants/ insects/ other animals. State should curb use of Latrines with pits, which disallow natural flow of Food cycle. Export of Human/ animal waste should be curbed.

State should use its rights to manage contents & languages for Education, so as to keep them as indigenous as possible.

State should use its right to ban ‘killing of specific race/s of Animals or Birds’, in addition to those previously specified.

State should use its right to send back citizens of other states, post closure of their contracts for residence in the State.

Implementation of above laws or policies should not be discriminative on the basis of Religion/ Caste/ Colour/ Race/ Sex of any Person.
